

'Trump set to gut US climate change policy'

WASHINGTON

The Trump administration is expected this week to revoke a scientific finding that has long been the central basis for US action to regulate greenhouse gas emissions and fight climate change, according to a White House official. The Environmental Protection Agency will issue a final rule rescinding a 2009 government declaration known as the endangerment finding. That Obama-era policy determined that carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases endanger public health and welfare. A White House official, speaking on condition of anonymity because they were not authorised to confirm the details ahead of an official announcement, confirmed the plans, which were first reported by the Wall Street Journal.

As AI enters operating room, botched surgery reports arise

AGENCIES NEW YORK

In 2021, a unit of healthcare giant Johnson & Johnson announced "a leap forward": It had added artificial intelligence to a medical device used to treat chronic sinusitis, an inflammation of the sinuses. Acclarent said the software for its TruDi Navigation System would now use a machine-learning algorithm to assist ear, nose and throat specialists in surgeries. The device had already been on the market for about three years. Until then, the US Food and Drug Administration had received unconfirmed reports of seven instances in which the device malfunctioned and another report of a patient injury. At least 10 people were injured between late 2021 and No-another reported case, a surgeon mistakenly punctured the base of a patient's skull. In two other cases, patients each allegedly suffered strokes after a major artery was accidentally injured, reported Reuters. Integra LifeSciences, which in 2024 purchased Acclarent and the TruDi Navigation System, said "there is no credible evidence to show any causal connection between the TruDi Navigation System, AI technology, and any alleged injuries." A Reuters review of safety and legal records, as well as interviews with doctors, nurses, scientists and regulators, documents some of the hazards of AI in medicine. The TruDi system isn't the only one to come under question: The FDA has received reports involving dozens of other AI-enhanced devices, including a heart monitor said to have overlooked abnormal heartbeats and an ultrasound device that allegedly misidentified fetal body parts.

Bad Bunny deletes all Instagram posts

AGENCIES NEW YORK

Rapper-singer Bad Bunny's unity-themed Super Bowl halftime performance on Sunday night has sparked divided reactions, with US President Donald Trump even calling it "absolutely terrible." Adding to the post-show buzz, Bad Bunny has since wiped his Instagram clean and unfollowed everyone after the halftime show, leaving fans confused and fuelling a wave of memes and debate across social media. Just hours after his Super Bowl performance, fans who opened Bad Bunny's Instagram saw something surprising: his profile showed zero posts, he had unfollowed everyone with the count dropping to 0, and even his display picture was gone, leaving his account looking completely blank.
